ASKING THE CAPTAIN.

Just What Happened When Information Was Sought From the Commander.

"Once on an ocean steamer," said a traveler, "we had a heated shaft bearing, or something of that sort, so that the engines stopped for five or six hours. I had often read and heard about how the captain was the great mogul aboard ship, how about all things pertaining to the affairs of the ship he held aloof and none not be approached by the passengers, and that it was a sort of violation of the unwritten rules of the sea for a passenger to ask the captain anything. And there may be some reason in all this; if one passenger might ask him, 40 might, and surely the command of the ship ought not to be unnecessarily disturbed by needless questions. We had been lying there three or four hours waiting. There was no danger whatever, but it was a delay and an impediment of interest, and of course all the passengers talked about nothing else—the common information was that the delay was due to a heated bearing.

"I was standing on the upper deck by the door to the main compartment leading to the deck below. The captain came along the upper deck from the after part of the ship and went below by that compartmentway. He must pass within a foot of me, and under the circumstances it did not seem like a violently unreasonable breach of salt water etiquette to ask him what was the matter, which I did. A passenger who stood on the other side of the doorway looked at me with the amused smile of an older traveler. The captain said nothing. He simply passed on, to all outward appearances quite unconscious of my question or even my presence."—New York Sun.

One of the curious forest growths of the Isthmus of Panama and lower Central America in general is the vine which the Spaniards call matapalo, or "tree killer." This vine first starts in life as a climber upon the trunks of the large trees, and owing to its marvellously rapid growth, soon reaches the lower branches. At this point it first begins to put out its "feelings"—tender, harmless looking root shoots, which soon reach the ground and become as firmly fixed as the parent stem. These hundreds of additional sap tubes give the whole vine a swayed lease of life, and it begins to send out its aerial tendrils in all directions. These twining themselves tightly around every limb of the tree, even creeping to the very farthest tips and squeezing the life out of both bark and leaf. Things go on at this rate but a short while before the forest giant is compelled to succumb to the gigantic parasite which is sapping its life's blood. Within a very few years the tree rots and falls away, leaving the matapalo standing erect and hollow, like a monster vegetable devilish lying upon its back with its horrid tentacles clasped together high in the air. Morgan, "Central America Afloat," says, "Cerebral arbors of matapalo are to be seen in all directions, each testifying to the lingering death of some sylvan giant that formerly supported it."—St. Louis Republic.

How Massachusetts Treats Debtors.

Some recent letter writers in various newspapers have been complaining that Boston is provincial in several respects. So it is. But the charge may be extended to the state just as well. It is said to be possible to imprison a man for debt in Massachusetts, as barbarous as it is looked upon in other regions, and it is said to be possible, too, for a creditor to intercept the salary of a man with a family, except $10 a week, and this, too, even if there are a dozen in the family, and the judgment debt is really another person's. When one learns of such things as these, one ceases to wonder at the extent of the emigration from regions where such things are possible. —Boston Traveller.

Constituent Parts of a Cord of Wood.

A cord of fairly seasoned wood weighs about 4,000 pounds. If subjected to a heat of between 700 and 800 degrees it resolves into three distinct products—resinous, pyroigneous acid and gases. In order to properly bring this change about it is necessary to place the wood in a kiln and apply the heat gradually for four or five days. At the end of that time the residue will be 1,000 pounds of chemical, 2,000 pounds of pyroigneous acid and 1,000 pounds of uncondensed gases. The aggregate weight of these products is exactly equal to the original weight of the wood.—St. Louis Republic.

BUDS, Society buds, young women just entering the doors of society or womanhood, require the wisest care. To be beautiful and charming they must have perfect health, with all it implies—a clear skin, rosy cheeks, bright eyes and good spirits. At this period the young woman is especially sensitive, and many nervous troubles, which continue through life, have their origin at this time. If there be pain, headache, backache, and nervous disturbances, or the general health not good, the judicious use of medicine should be employed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best restorative tonic and nerve-cure at this time. The best bodily condition results from its use. It's a remedy specially indicated for those delicate weaknesses and derangements that afflict women at one period or another. You'll find that the woman who has faithfully used the "Prescription" is the picture of health, she looks well and she feels well.

"WOMAN'S ILLS."

MRS. W. R. DATES, of Olin, writes:

"A few years ago I took Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which has been a great benefit to me. I am in excellent health now. I hope that every woman who is troubled with 'woman's ills' will try the 'Prescription' and be benefited as I have been."

RATIO OF GOLD AND SILVER

The gold standard advocates assert that the price of silver is regulated by supply and demand the same as that of onions and potatoes. They contend that legislation has nothing whatever to do with the matter and that the ratio of silver to gold cannot be established by law.

History tells us that Julius Caesar, Sovereign Pontiff of Rome, established the ratio of silver to gold at 12 to 1, in the year 45 before Christ. Rome became mistress of the world and throughout the Empire the debt-paying power of twelve ounces of silver was equal to that of one ounce of gold. This ratio between the metals was maintained by law until A. D. 1204, a period of 1,249 years.

The price of gold is fixed by law in England at $19.2 per ounce. The law compels the Bank of England to buy all gold of standard fineness presented at its counter at $18.92 per ounce, and to pay for the same in Bank of England notes, which are a legal tender in Great Britain. An act of the Congress of the United States made a silver dollar containing 412 2/3 grains of silver of standard fineness equal in debt-paying power to a gold dollar and provided mints for the coinage of silver into such dollars for the public. This law remained in force from the time the mint was established in 1792 to 1873, a period of 81 years. Though the silver mines of Mexico were as productive during that period as they are to-day, this country was not flooded with Mexican silver though the mints coined silver for anybody and everybody who presented it for that purpose.

The Government purchased no silver and as the law gave it a fixed value when coined, its price was not controlled by the bulls and bears of New York and London as it is to-day. The Government charged a fixed rate, enough presumably to cover the cost, for parting and coining gold and silver, but the mints were free to the public and a person having a bar of gold or silver could have it coined into dollars, which were a legal tender for all debts. Now by reason of legislation in the interest of the money lenders of Europe the mines are closed to silver and the metal is made a merchantable commodity with no fixed value. Repeat that hostile legislation by restoring the old coinage laws and silver, without the expenditure of a dollar by the Government, will again have a fixed value, that is, sixteen ounces of silver, coined into dollars at the mint, will have the same debt-paying power as one ounce of gold coined into dollars.

Legislation, by closing the mints against silver, has debased the metal of which half the money of the world is made to a commodity, and similar legislation would have the same effect on gold. Make silver the only money of ultimate redemption and close the mints against gold for twenty-one years, as they have been against silver, and gold will sink to the level of a commodity as silver has in consequence of such legislation. There is not over sixteen times as much silver as there is of gold in the world, consequently there is no necessity for changing the ratio, and there is not enough of both metals if coined into legal tender dollars, to meet the requirements of business, but as the object of the money kings of the world is to make money scarce they insist on the single gold standard and the payment of all debts in gold.

THIRTY LAW MAKERS.

In Colorado, as in other States, members of the Legislature are provided with passes by railroad companies, not of course, to influence legislation, but as a personal compliment. Sometimes law-makers of thrifty habits turn an honest penny by renting their passes to persons whose business necessitates considerable travel on railroads. Usually the honorables who lease passes prudently select as lessees, persons whose general characteristics are somewhat similar to their own, but times are dull in Colorado just now and travelers not as numerous as heretofore, and a member with a German name incautiously let his pass to a craveller with a rich Irish accent. The conductor to whom the pass was presented could not reconcile the name and the brogue and an investigation resulted in the discovery that the pass had been leased for $15 a month and had been used to the extent of $100 per month during the Winter and Spring, and that the business of leasing passes was a growing industry in Colorado.

The railroad officials are now at their wits end, in vain endeavor to devise a method by which members of the Legislature cannot impose on them by letting their passes to others and it is probable that henceforth conductors will be instructed to recognize no pass unless a photograph of the person presenting it is attached to the pass-board after the manner of Chinese certificates issued under the provisions of the Exclusion Act.

GENERAL A. J. WARNER says a split in the Democratic party on the money question is inevitable. The silver men must therefore get together and select a candidate for President who will be supported by the Silver Democrats and Republicans and the Populists. With such a candidate victory is certain.

GOULD IS CRITICISED.

Senator Vest Favors the Free Coinage of Silver.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Five People Killed by Lightning at Birmingham, Alabama.

VEST FOR FREE COINAGE.

He Says the Silver Question Must be Settled Without Equivocation.

SENATE SPRINGS, Mo., June 27.—Senator Vest says of the money question: "There must be a settlement of the silver question without equivocation. We must determine to adopt the gold standard permanently, retire the greenbacks, and perpetuate the national banks with their paper based exclusively on gold, or we must open our mints to silver. The financial servitude which now exists on the part of the United States to foreigners should cease. Nothing could be more degrading than the present conditions."

"I believe in real bimetalism—the use of both gold and silver as standard money—but if we must have one metal or the other, I would take silver, for we would then at least be independent, instead of being the tail of the British kite and the helpless victims of the Rothschild's syndicate."

When asked his opinion about calling a State Convention of the Democratic party in Missouri to consider the silver question he said he believed a majority desired the convention, and he assumed that the State Committee would obey the demand of the majority. The matter has gone so far that more irritation would come from the refusal to call the convention than anything the convention could possibly do.

THE WEBER MURDERERS.

They are the Russian Convicts who Escaped from Siberia.

SACRAMENTO, June 27.—This morning Luther Weber went before Justice Henry and swore to a warrant charging the following named persons with the murder of his mother and father: Ivan Kovalev, Mattheu St. Cherbakov and Kharlam Nikitin. Kovalev is now in custody in San Francisco, and Sheriff Johnson and one of his deputies will go down after him this afternoon, returning to this city at noon to-morrow.

SAN JOSE, June 27.—The body of Mattheu St. Cherbakov, who was found dead in a lot on Eleventh street on the morning of April 1st, after an encounter with William Dowdigan, was exhumed in the Potter's Field this morning in the presence of Detective Gibson and Chief Edwards. A portion of the coat and vest was removed from the body for the purpose of comparing it with a suit belonging to F. H. L. Weber, which was left behind after the murder of the old couple in Sacramento. Detective Gibson stated that the clothing tallied with a description of the samples and he was positive that the coat and vest was part of the clothing stolen from the murdered man. There were no pants on the body and the officials were extremely reticent as to what became of them.

CHAIRMAN GOULD CRITICISED.

A Sharp Retort From Committeeman Mitchell

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—Democratic State Central Committeeman Mitchell, who sent a letter to Chairman Gould a few days ago, asking to have a called meeting of the Committee for the purpose of calling a silver meeting of the State and received an unfavorable reply, has now addressed a second letter to Chairman Gould. This letter is sharp and takes exception to the fact that Mr. Gould took Mr. Mitchell's other letter personally. It asks that the Central Committee be polled on the question of calling a Silver Convention; "that a preponderance of Democratic opinion exists in favor of the coinage of silver at the ratio of 15 to 1 is a fact you seem not to be impressed with, and I will set this down to your ignorance of current events. I well understand the species of egotism that prompts you to make the remarkable statements of your letter. If you really hold the views you express, I think the head of the State Democratic Committee would be most acceptable to that element in society known as anarchists."

A Fallen Preacher.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., June 27.—Rev. W. T. Broadhurst, pastor of the M. E. Church South, who a few days ago was found in a compromising position with a woman of his congregation, publishes the following card to-day: "It is due to the public that I make this confession. I am a fallen preacher after twenty-one years work in the M. E. Church. I have resisted thousands of temptations but was caught at last. My sin is such that I make no defense." He has resigned his pastorate. He is well known throughout the west.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

A Big Religious Demonstration at Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 27.—The second International Convention of the Epworth League is proving as big a religious demonstration as the most sanguine expected. All the Bishops of the Methodist Church are here except Bishop Vincent. Twenty-five special trains, bringing 5,000 people, have already arrived, with delegates from every State and Territory in the United States. Trains bearing 5,000 more are on the way. In addition special excursions from all the adjoining States will swell the number to at least 15,000. The conference was formally opened at 2:30 this afternoon in a big tent, which has a seating capacity of 10,000. The tent was crowded. An inspiring song, led by a chorus of 1,000 voices, started the great convention to work.

SHE BANKED IN HER CLOTHES.

A Frugal Old Lady Who Carried Her Money on Her Person.

SANTA ROSA, June 27.—Mrs. Driscoll, an old lady of Cloverdale, died at her home there yesterday. She lived alone many years in a very frugal manner. When her neighbors found the old lady was sick on Monday they undressed her and put her to bed. When her clothes were removed, they found $1,400 in gold, tied up in little bags, fastened to her body. She carried money in this way for a number of years and nobody knew she had any. The money was taken and deposited in the bank for her. She lived until Wednesday afternoon. It transpires that she has considerable other property. Her only near relative is a sister, who lives in the East.

DIED IN AGONY.

Horrible Death of an Arizona Cattle Man.

PRESCOTT, A. T., June 27.—Joseph M. Walker died here last evening in most horrible agony. Several days ago he suffered the dislocation of an ankle on a cow range in Kirkland valley and laid out in the sun for several hours. During the time a blow fly got in his nose, laid eggs, and when he was brought to town for medical treatment for his ankle, screw worms commenced to drop from his nose. Several physicians attended him, but the worms increased in his head, dropping from his nose and mouth, and on opening his mouth a mass of insects could be seen. Finally they reached his brain, resulting in death.

FATAL THUNDER STORM.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 27.—Five people were killed here by lightning during the thunder storm throughout the State yesterday. Thomas and Geo. Washington were killed while taking shelter under a tree near Falkland. Lightning struck the house of James Mackney at Lincoln, killing him and seriously injuring his wife. William McVine and his wife were driving near Smith's Mills when their buggy was crushed by a tree that had been struck by lightning. McVine was killed and his wife received injuries from which she died soon after.

She has found that her complexion is her strongest point and that when she takes a cup of Parks' Tea at night it keeps it fresh and clear and that a little sunbath is an added attraction. She finds, too, that she can be more athletic if she never misses her cup of Parks' Tea. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

REDUCING THE NUMBER OF MARRIAGES.

One of the Results of the Demonetization of Silver.

Senator Stewart advances the proposition, and produces statistics to support the truth of the assertion, that the demonetization of silver will not only reduce the number of marriages in the future, but that it has already done so to an alarming extent.

"The reason," the Senator continued, "is obvious. From the landing at Jamestown until fifteen years ago, the only questions asked of a young man proposing marriage were: Is he honest, industrious, intelligent and of good character? If these were affirmatively answered, the consent of the parents was ordinarily given. The question now is, has the young man a fixed income? The possibility of him making a living for himself and family by his industry is regarded as too remote for consideration."

"Why is this? Are not young men succeeding to-day in business enterprises as well as in the past? Not at all, there is not one succeeding to-day, where 100 succeeded half a century ago. You ask the cause; it is due to falling prices. If a man is in business he is unable to dispose of the fruits of his labor to an advantage. On the contrary, the more he struggles and engages in business the more continually do prices fall. Thousands of men are renting farms to-day who were owners some years ago, and who were forced to abandon the position of owners because of their inability to pay the taxes."

"From 1810 to 1850 the Spanish-American wars had reduced the output of precious metals to $10,000,000 annually. The United States was particularly situated. The Mississippi Valley offered opportunities for making homes, which did not exist elsewhere. Immigration from Europe built up this country while the public lands were being distributed so that the United States did not feel the partial money famine in the first half of the century as other countries did. As the public lands became scarcer, gold from California and Australia kept up the prices and enabled young men to buy lands or establish business enterprises by their integrity. Now the lands are gone and contraction has come and falling prices have cut off the opportunity of the masses. The few who are now able to support their wives."

"What becomes of those who cannot afford to marry?" he was asked.

"They live," replied the Senator, "on their parents or go into servitude. Women are seeking employment in stores as type-writers and upper servants. They must do something; they can't afford to marry."

"What will be the effect of this upon our population?"

"The effect will be to reduce the population. The census of 1900 showed a falling off in the increase of our population and the census of 1900 will accentuate this increase. The number of marriages have decreased from 25 to 40 per cent during the last five years. These figures may not be exactly correct, as I am speaking from memory, but they are approximately so."

QUARTZ CRAZY.

A Mania for Which There is No Remedy.

"A man may recover from a crazy desire for gambling or give up whisky after he has been its slave," said a Coloradoan to a writer for the Washington Star, "but when he goes quartz crazy there is no further hope for him unless he strikes a bonanza. Then his insanity will be none the less intense, but it will not be so pronounced because he will have the means to pursue this passion without undergoing discomfort or creating remark. What do I mean by quartz crazy? Well, it's evident you have never been in the western country. Out where the mountains are piled on top of each other those qualities abound. A man who is quartz crazy is an individual who catches the mining fever and becomes convinced that his mission on earth is to find the greatest vein of pay ore ever discovered. In pursuit of his quest he suffers hardships and overcomes more obstacles than did all the knights who ever searched for the Holy Grail. He will leave home, family, friends and comfort, and all alone, with a meager supply of provisions and a few tools, he will plunge into an unknown wilderness, and when he finds a place that holds out a mineral prospect, he will burrow in the treacherous mountain side like a rabbit and dig from daylight to dark, expecting with every stroke of his pick to uncover his expected fortune. Nearly every prospector in the west, or the rest of the world for that matter, is afflicted with the malady I have described. Some of them keep up their ceaseless search with every recurring season and sometimes strike a good thing. In such cases, somebody else, the party who has the money to develop the find, reaps the profit."

Slightly Sarcastic.

The Queen of the British Empire and the aristocracy of the House of Lords and the aristocracy and common people of Great Britain represented in the House of Commons, all sitting as representatives in the British Parliament, do enact as follows:

Hereafter in the civilized world no commercial debt shall be a money debt and no money shall be coined in the world, nor shall the coin now existing in the world possess the power, or characteristic, or function to completely answer commercial demand.

JAMISON-ENYART.

Two Young Reno People Launch Their Bark on the Matrimonial Sea.

"Orange blossoms, a veil and a maiden fair; A knight, the parson and a wedding fair."

A pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of Nate W. Roff. Lisle Jamison and Miss Clara R. Enyart, both of Reno, being joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. There were some seventy guests present nearly all of whom were relatives of the contracting parties. Not a hitch occurred during the evening, every detail being carried out to the letter. Promptly at 8:30 the wedding party consisting of the bridegroom escorting Miss M. Nowatney the bridesmaid, and Mr. Frank Enyart, the brother of the bride, as best man, escorting his sister, filed into the handsomely decorated rooms and took their respective positions under an arch way festooned with flowers. The Reverends R. A. and M. L. Tupper Maynard immediately began the impressive ceremony and in a few moments the happy pair were made one. Congratulations followed and the good wishes extended to the couple for a successful, long and happy life were expressed over and over again.

The bride was dressed in a handsomely made costume of white silk, and looked as pretty as a picture in her bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms. Miss Nowatney, as bridesmaid, looked charming in a costume of white nun's veiling, elegantly trimmed, with natural flowers. Both ladies carried pretty bouquets of delicate white roses. The gentlemen were costumed in regulation evening dress. Shortly after the ceremony the guests were seated at a beautifully laid table and the young couple began their journey on the matrimonial sea with a sincere wish from all present of a bon voyage.

Lisle Jamison is too well known to need an introduction. He has grown up in Reno from a little boy and he counts his personal friends by the hundreds. He has always been one of the most popular young men in town, and his naturally affable and cheerful manner has made him a genial companion and he always stands by a friend. Mrs. Jamison is well known and her sweet disposition and homelike qualities endear her to everyone with whom she becomes acquainted. She is a Californian by birth, but owing to the fact that she was born in Long Valley, near our State line and having lived for many years in Reno, she can be claimed as a Nevada production.

A remarkable incident connected with the wedding of last evening was the fact that nearly fifty of those present, including children, were relatives of the bridegroom and bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Jamison will occupy a flat in the house in which they were married and commence housekeeping immediately.

Death of a Popular Young Man.

George Brown, a son of Mrs. D. H. Lodge, and well known about town, having been in the employ of J. F. Aiken for a long time, died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock of typhoid fever. He was taken sick something over two weeks ago, but notwithstanding he had received the best of medical aid and nursing, the dread disease could not be overcome and he had to give up the life that at his age was so dear to him. He was a young man, being but 24 years of age, and his naturally jovial disposition had made him many friends. He was an honored member of Company C, N. G., and the flag on the Armory was floated at half-mast yesterday. He will be buried on Saturday with military honors.

Sad News.

J. N. Evans received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. James Cheney of Fort Wayne, Indiana, early in the day. Mrs. Cheney was a sister of Mrs. Mary E. Arrowsmith and the Evans brothers of this city, and was the mother of William Cheney, ex-Mayor of Iron Point, Humboldt county, where he was engaged in stock raising twenty years ago, and had happy friends.

BREVITIES.

Dr. Phelps left for Galena Creek yesterday afternoon accompanied by George Powers on a fishing trip. The Doctor was extravagant in his promises to his friends as to the liberal supply of trout he would present them on his return. They expect to be back Saturday evening.

The Department of Justice has ordered that the cases of 120 members of the A. R. U. in California be dismissed. This order was made upon the recommendation of United States District Attorney Foote of California, who did not believe that the men could be convicted.

The examination of Thomas Jenkins, charged with assault with the intent to kill C. H. McIntosh at Kennedy, was concluded at Winnemucca Wednesday. Justice Houghton held that the evidence was not, in his opinion, sufficient to warrant the holding of Jenkins to await the acting of the Grand Jury and he was discharged.

William Weighel of Paradise writes the Silver State that the Silver State Flouring mill was burned last Monday evening. There was considerable wheat, flour and bran in the mill, all of which was destroyed. The property was owned by Recanzone & Forgnone, and the origin of the fire is unknown, as there was no one in the building at the time.

The Kentucky Democrats nominated General Hardin for Governor on the first ballot by a vote of 468 to 390 for Clay. Hardin is a silver man and Clay was the Administration candidate. The Convention indorses the Administration and nominated a candidate for Governor who is opposed to the policy of the Administration. Republican political jugglers can excel that feat.

General Green Clay Smith of Kentucky is dying of blood poisoning caused by a malignant carbuncle. He was a candidate for Vice President on the Republican ticket in 1864 and was beaten by Andrew Johnson by half a vote. He was breveted Major General by President Lincoln for gallantry on the battlefield. He entered the Baptist ministry in 1879 and has been pastor of the Metropolitan Church in Washington since 1890.

Mrs. Spangler, who had such a narrow escape night before last in a runaway accident, is as well as could be expected under the circumstances. She was terribly bruised but it is thought that no bones were broken, although she is suffering great pain about the shoulder, and it is possible there may be a fracture in that region. Mr. Spangler received some ugly bruises, but was able to be on the street yesterday. Will Jackson, the driver, was very sore, but his principal injury was the cut on his head.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gundersman, of Diamonddale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

The Grandest Medicine

One of Reno's prominent ladies says: "Viavi is the grandest medicine in the world." She had treated with the best specialists in the city; also had employed local physicians, but says: "Viavi beats them all," and I quite agree with her. I will be pleased to explain the cures we make to all who call. j6tf Mrs. B. E. Hunter, Viavi Co.

Cousins Changing Wives.

LOGANSFORD, Ind., June 27.—John and James Winick, cousins living near Star City, are soon to have a double wedding. Both were married on the same day about ten years ago. Later both were divorced. Now John is to marry James' divorced wife and James is to wed John's divorced wife.

Eczema on Face, Neck and Hands Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured All Impurity.

Mr. Augustus O. Graham Tallahassee, Ind. Ter.

"Our son Augustus was very severely troubled with eczema. Sores broke out on his face, neck and hands, and the slightest scratch on his hands would break out in bad sores."

We persuaded him to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has been two or three months since he has been troubled. His hands are quite smooth. Our nephew, Edgar P. Shaver, who lives with us, was afflicted similarly only his case was more severe, accompanied by scrofulous bunches on his neck. He has taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is now well. His skin is as smooth as any one could wish, and the eruptions on his neck have disappeared." Mrs. M. J. GRAHAM, Box 175, Tallahassee, Ind. Ter.
